

It's all Connected

What goes in storm drains comes out in our streams and rivers. Everyone can pitch in and keep the waterways clean by keeping trash and pollution out of the storm drains.

The Mt. Holly Environmental Advisory Committee (EAC), working with professional and student artists solicited artwork for the production of street murals to raise awareness that trash and chemicals that wash down local Storm Drains pollute the Rancocas Creek, harming wildlife and fouls the water we depend on.

Find the storm drain street/sidewalk murals at:

Kitchen 87

Church and White Streets

Levis Drive next to Holbein

Ridgway and Jacksonville

Partial funding provided by The Mt. Holly Rotary